

Manuel Pazos Bazán

Born in Galicia in the north of Spain, Manuel has been passionate about teaching for as long as he can remember. Since 2008, he has been teaching high school classes ranging from theater to Spanish language and literature. In addition, he has taught social sciences to members of the Armed Forces and art history to senior adults. He has also been working as an associate professor at the Universidad Autonoma in Madrid since 2015. When he isn't teaching, Manuel can be found savoring his favorite octopus dish, relaxing on the spectacular beaches in Galicia, hanging out at art exhibitions, or exploring off-the-beaten-path sites in Europe.