

Rosy Milla Arteaga

A burst of energy. A true “people person.” That’s the best way to describe Rosa (or “Rosy” as she likes to be called) in a few words.

Originally from Peru, Rosy has lived her adult life in Spain, after falling in love and marrying a Spaniard. Although her university studies were in the area of Business and Economics, she discovered that she absolutely loves teaching both children and adults. As a result, she has spent the last decade teaching both private classes and group classes at a language academy.

Rosy’s pastimes include playing tennis in the early mornings, traveling and exploring new destinations, and listening to music from the 80s. She also enjoys cooking so much that, if she hadn’t gone into teaching, she would have been a chef!
