

Amparo González

Born and raised in Cantabria in the north of Spain, Amparo is our expert "cuentacuentos" or storyteller! After obtaining her degree in psychology, she worked in a variety of school settings. Then one day, on a whim, she signed up for a storytelling class, thinking that it would be a great way to improve her communication skills. Little did she know that she would become hooked! She followed up with classes in improvisation, voice technique, and theater, among others. Today she leads the Storytelling Workshop at the Universidad Popular Carmen de Michelena in Madrid.
