

Brisa

Brisa was born in Venezuela but currently makes her home in Santiago, Chile. In her native country, she majored in English and linguistics, earning a master's degree in foreign language teaching and a TEFL certification. She has 20 years of experience as a language instructor, having taught students from around the world and with many mother tongues. Brisa enjoys meeting new people and learning about their cultures and background. She also loves cooking, trying new types of food, and working out at the gym.
