

Roneide

Roneide joins us from beautiful Trinidad and Tobago in the Caribbean. Originally from Venezuela, she met her husband while studying for a semester abroad in Trinidad. They now live there with their two children and a growing menagerie of pets including four rabbits, a hamster, and lovebirds.

Roneide graduated from the Universidad de los Andes in Venezuela with a degree in Modern Languages. She speaks Spanish, French, and English, as well as basic Italian.

Apart from picking up new languages, Roneide also enjoys dancing salsa and Venezuelan folk dances, trying out new dessert recipes, and enjoying the incredible mixture of cultures that make her adopted country a fascinating place to live.